Cairo, Luxor and Aswan in six days, connected entirely by air

From: 1220 USD per person

Overview

For travelers short on time who still want to see Egypt's three essential cities, this itinerary uses domestic flights to link Cairo, Luxor and Aswan without a single overnight train or long coach ride. Two nights in Luxor cover both riverbanks in full, a same-day loop through Aswan fits in the High Dam and Philae Temple before flying back to Cairo, and the trip closes with the Giza Plateau.

Every night is spent in a boutique guesthouse - modest outside, comfortable and characterful inside - with a private Egyptologist guide throughout.
