History in Cairo and Luxor, then two nights to unwind on the Red Sea

From: 1017 USD per person

Overview

A week is enough to cover Egypt's two ends without feeling rushed: this itinerary opens with the pyramids and museums of Cairo, moves south to Luxor by overnight sleeper train, then closes with two nights of Red Sea downtime in Hurghada before a coach ride back to Cairo for departure. As with all our packages, nights on land are spent in small boutique guesthouses rather than chain hotels - plain outside, comfortable and characterful inside - with home-cooked local meals each evening instead of a hotel buffet.

A private Egyptologist guide travels with you in Cairo and Luxor, so there's no coach schedule to work around and no repeating the introduction to a new guide at every stop.
