

cairo-marsa-alam-8-days

Two days of pyramids, then five unhurried nights on Egypt's quietest reef coast

From: 1190 USD per person

Overview

Marsa Alam sits further south than Hurghada, with fewer crowds and some of the Red Sea's best reef access, which is why this itinerary gives it five full nights rather than two or three. The trip opens with a focused two days in Cairo - the Giza Plateau and the Egyptian Museum - before flying south for an all-inclusive stay built around open days you can fill with optional Sataya Reef snorkeling, a desert safari, or Wadi El-Gemal National Park.

Your Cairo night is spent in a boutique guesthouse - modest outside, comfortable and characterful inside - before your all-inclusive Marsa Alam resort takes over for the rest of the trip.
